PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE by Art Barrett, P.E.

I hope that as the summer has progressed you have had an opportunity to enjoy it with friends and family. What a wonderful time we had at Kingsmill for the 2015 ACEC/MD summer conference! With the Leadership Class there, it was fantastic seeing all of the new faces and energy at the conference.

I would like to begin by expressing my gratitude to Dana Knight for a great job leading ACEC/MD this past year as our president. Dana spent countless hours working with all the various ACEC/MD committees and subcommittees, and providing almost daily support of our business interests, as well as many evening hours addressing issues with his primary job at McCormick Taylor. Dana continued the practice of setting SMART goals and he, along with our member firm representatives, were able to meet many of them. In addition, Dana surpassed the highly established standard by arranging for a great day on May 4 for our annual golf outing. Dana, thank you for making a difference in ACEC/MD.

There are several others I would like to thank.

- Thanks to Jim and Barb for their continued support of ACEC/MD's efforts. We would not achieve so much for all the member firms if not for their dedication.
- Thanks to Alan Straus of AECOM, who did great work in his three-year Director's role. Alan will remain active with ACEC/MD, and has agreed to Chair the 2015 MDOT Liaison Committee.

Welcome to Vince Pielli (Urban Engineers) and Harish Patel (EBA Engineers) as they join the 2015/2016 Executive Committee. Vince and Harish will be joining Chris Fronheiser. Manny Sidhu, Tony Frascarella, and Sean McCone as Directors; Jack Moeller and Dana Knight as our ACEC Directors; Stu Robinson as Vice President; Jerry Jannetti as Treasurer; Stu Taub as Secretary; and myself as President.

I look forward to serving as president of ACEC/MD for the next year. Over the years there have been many leaders serving in this role, and as they all have previously done, I will do my part to make this a successful year for ACEC/MD. I plan to revisit all of the SMART goals to see how we can mold them and ensure focused growth, and strive to work toward our mission statement.

To promote the business interests of engineering companies by providing legislative advocacy, enhancing the image of the profession and the business environment, and encouraging students to pursue careers in engineering.

To promote our business interests, ACEC/MD needs the active participation and support of all our member firms to keep the organization fresh with new ideas. Our business interests are strengthened with public and private clients by the advocacy and involvement of our committees. I would like to encourage anyone interested in participating on a committee to contact Jim Otradovec to identify a place to start.

We can all participate in legislative advocacy by serving on committees, reviewing legislation, participating in national legislative visits in DC on April 20, 2016, and in the Maryland legislative visits and luncheon in Annapolis on January 28, 2016; by being part of the grass root campaigns, and raising industry and personal concerns with emails or letters speaking to legislative alerts.

Every other year ACEC/MD offers a Leadership Program for about 25 people that our member firms have nominated as individuals that will be active in the future success of our firms and industry. In 2015 the Leadership Program provided participants with the opportunity to participate in a series of management training seminars held by local business leaders. Topics included Characteristics of Leaders, Finance and Profitability, Political Activism, and Risk Management. Thanks for the work of our facilitator, Jim Marcotte, who organized and conducted this program. Let's all make sure there's a return on the investment for this program by involving all participants from 2015 and previous years, and ensure that they are active in ACEC/MD legislative matters.

We have not met our goal of 100 ACEC/MD member firm representatives participating in the State legislative visits. This January, please ask your firm to allow you to represent them as a part of ACEC/MD's legislative outreach.

For the past several years we have been enhancing the image of the profession and the business environment by re-establishing ourselves as an organization interested in engineering services of all types. We will continue to hold committee, liaison, and general meetings with a focus on transportation, water/wastewater, environmental and MEP that fulfill the interests of our member firms. We will also continue with committee meetings to address small business and DBE concerns, human resources, and IT services, and work with industry leaders to address auditing guidelines, contract language, overhead, public relations, QBS, etc.

The last part of our mission statement is encouraging students to pursue careers in engineering. We have several committees that serve this function. In addition to participation in activities with different clients, we also have the CAREER OUTREACH COMMITTEE and the ENGINEER'S WEEK/ENGINEERING SOCIETY OF BALTIMORE ASSOCIATE COUNCIL LIAISON that are tasked with reaching out to develop ties to high school students and STEM programs.

High school students are not the only ones we need to encourage. Engineers and engineering students are sought after because we solve problems. We need to engage both engineering students and our young engineers with internships and the ACEC/MD Leadership Program to get engineers ready to lead our industry in the future. Let's make sure that attendees of the leadership programs get active on committees, meetings, outreach, and with each other to establish strong ties throughout our engineering community.

In closing, I look forward to working with everyone this year, and hope to see you at one or more of our events scheduled for the coming months.

ACEC/MD RETURNS TO FAMILIAR VENUE FOR 2015 CONFERENCE

Returning to the site of the 1990 and 2003 conferences, a record 111 member firm representatives and guests attended ACEC/MD's 27th annual conference at Kingsmill Resort in Williamsburg. Located on the banks of the beautiful James River, unlike previous years, this year's weather could not have been more perfect for late June in the heart of Virginia.

Paramount to the success of this year's conference were presentations by Ted Henifin, PE, General Manager of the Hampton Roads Sanitation District and Jim Long, PE, DBIA, Project Delivery Director for the Hampton Roads Transportation Accountability Commission (HRTAC), who shared information about doing business with these important client agencies. While a lack of dredging at the resort prevented a cruise from being included in this year's conference, attendees were able to experience life in Old Town Williamsburg and a ghost /legends tour as part of Local Color Night.

In addition to an informative presentation by KCI's Harvey Floyd, who serves as Senior Vice President and Treasurer at ACEC, we were pleased to be joined by this year's Leadership Program participants. A special thanks to Cathy Ritter (Constellation Design Group), Kunal Gangopadhyay (EBA Engineering), Dana Knight (McCormick Taylor), Charles Kumi (Kumi Construction Management Corporation), and Doug Suess (Whitney, Bailey, Cox & Magnani), who took time from their busy schedules to discuss characteristics of leaders at the program's closing session. We look forward to the continued involvement in future ACEC/MD activities and committees by the record number of graduates in this year's program.

Twenty-five golfers competed for the prestigious John E. Greiner cup on the challenging Kingsmill Plantation Course. Coming out on top in this year's tournament was Tony Frascarella (Century Engineering) who shot a net score of 70. Other notable performances included:

- Low Gross – Kevin Kreis (EBA Engineering)
- Closest to the Pin – Stu Taub (Wallace Montgomery)
- Least Putts – Manny Sidhu (Sidhu Associates)
- Most Putts – Terry Barrett & Adam Gardner (KCI)

In his closing remarks, outgoing ACEC/MD President Dana Knight (McCormick Taylor) took time to thank his wife Wendy and the members of the ACEC/MD Executive Committee and the standing committees for helping to make his term a success. He also offered special recognition to Leon Kriebel (WBCM), who completed nine years of service to ACEC/MD as an Executive Committee member and Alan Straus (AECOM) who was term limited as a Director.

After taking the reigns of the organization, new ACEC/MD President Art Barrett (Gannett Fleming) expressed appreciation to Dana for making a difference in everyone's lives and he thanked Dana's wife Wendy for her understanding when ACEC/MD activities kept Dana away from home. He also congratulated the graduates of this year's ACEC/MD Leadership Program, and encouraged them to go to their bosses and tell them that they want to stay active in ACEC/MD.

Mark your calendars for June 22-25, 2016, and plan to join your colleagues and friends at ACEC/MD's 28th Annual Conference at the Hyatt Regency Newport, Rhode Island.

FHWA PUBLISHES FINAL RULE ON CONSULTANT SERVICES

FHWA has issued a comprehensive rewrite of regulations covering consultant services on federal highway projects that can be accessed at <https://federalregister.gov/a/2015-12024>. In general, the regulations are consistent with current policy guidance and best practices that were developed in conjunction with ACEC. They should help achieve more uniform interpretation and compliance with federal laws by state DOTs and local public agencies.

Areas addressed in the regulations include:

- Procurement
- Conflicts of interest
- Program management
- Contracts and Administration
- Allowable Costs and Oversight

Of note, FHWA declined to accept several recommendations from the Professional Engineers in California Government (PECG), which would have made it more difficult or impossible to contract out engineering and design services. The final rule went into effect June 22, 2015.
